

THAW'S FAMILY SACRIFICE PRIDE TO SAVE HIS IMPERILED LIFE AND PLEAD HEREDITARY INSANITY

Attorney Gleason Says That Prisoner's Mother
Will Open Closet Exposing Family
Skeleton to the World

EVELYN THAW WILL TELL HER STORY

Of Cruel Wrong at the Hands of the Dead Architect,
Which so Influenced Thaw's Diseased Brain
As to Make Him Irresponsible.

New York, Feb. 5.—Only one member of the Thaw family was in the trial room when Harry Thaw fled to his seat at the counsel table this morning. He was Josiah Thaw. There was friendly smile as the defendant took his place and began to write hurriedly on a pad of paper. There was only a thin fringe of spectators in the rail when Justice Fitzgerald called the court to order. Only newspaper men and favored ones passed the solid wall of officers at the door. Crowds of curious were turned back.

None of the counsel for the state was in court when Justice Fitzgerald took his seat and there was a long delay which served to increase the nervousness of all concerned. Harry Thaw scratched busily on the paper in front of him and looked neither to the right nor the left.

Dr. C. H. Wiley of Pittsburg, one of the Thaw family physicians, was the first witness called.

Dr. Wiley testified that he was a specialist on insanity in the Dixmont insane asylum in Pennsylvania.

"What happened in 1905 in connection with Thaw?" There was some occurrence was there not?" inquired Attorney Gleason.

"In 1905 I was a passenger on the Pittsburg avenue surface line when Thaw entered the car. It was in the evening. Thaw without any apparent reason yanked the blind of the window down. The conductor pulled it up. His action created a furore in the car."

"What was his manner?" inquired Gleason.

"It was vague, semi-defiant and impertinent," replied Dr. Wiley.

"Was it an irrational or rational act?"

"I should say it was not."

Lawyer Gleason formed a hypothetical question embodying Thaw's acts just previous to the shooting and his manner and remarks after the killing, and asked Dr. Wiley if in his opinion the man who committed such an act was sane or insane.

"My opinion is that the man in the street car—"

"I object," shouted District Attorney Jerome, and then everybody knew that the battle of the alienists was begun.

The doctor finally answered that in his opinion the man who had acted as Thaw had done after the shooting of Stanford White was undoubtedly insane.

"If you knew that there was hereditary insanity in the family would it aid you in this conclusion?" asked Gleason.

"I think it would."

"District Attorney Jerome was permitted to take up the cross examination of the witness."

"You do not know what the laws in this state provide in the excuse for crime by insane persons?" asked Jerome.

"I cannot say that I do."

District Attorney Jerome forced the witness to admit that he had formed his opinion on the hypothetical question from what he had been told of the facts in the case and what he had observed on the car in Pittsburg in 1905.

"Now as an expert," began Jerome but Dr. Wiley interrupted him, saying:

"I do not know that I am an expert."

"Do you mean to say that you are not an expert?" asked Jerome.

"I have had some experience in insanity cases. I believe I am considered an expert," replied Dr. Wiley.

"Why do you believe you are?" asked Jerome.

known to you in this case, you testify as an expert and give an answer to that hypothetical question?"

"Yes."

District Attorney Jerome concluded his cross examination with the doctor's answer.

Mr. Gleason then arose and asked his witness if he thought that Thaw knew at the time of the shooting that his act was wrongful and that he knew its nature?

"He did not," replied Dr. Wiley.

The prosecutor taking up the re-cross examination made it clear that Dr. Wiley had formed his answer to the hypothetical question from three things—first, what he had seen in the street car; second, what he had heard of the case, and third, what he could fairly assume from the question itself.

"Now I move to strike the answer of the witness to the hypothetical question from the records," said Jerome. "The court of appeals has held that experts in answering hypothetical questions must base their answers entirely on the facts assumed in the hypothetical question and nothing else."

Justice Fitzgerald, despite the objection from Thaw's counsel, directed the answer to be stricken from the record.

Lawyer Gleason went back to his hypothetical question again and sought to obtain an answer strictly in accord with the rules of evidence.

Thaw's counsel read the long question and directing the witness to draw his conclusions from the facts contained in the hypothetical question, asked him again if he thought the act was that of an insane man.

"Yes, sir," replied Dr. Wiley.

Again District Attorney Jerome went at the witness, asking him what he believed.

"I think he was suffering from a delusion," replied the doctor.

"What was the nature of the delusion?"

"There were impressions reached by 40 conclusions," replied Wiley.

"Now do you know anything about Christian Science?" asked the prosecutor.

"I have some friends who believe in it," was the answer.

"Do you believe them insane?"

"No."

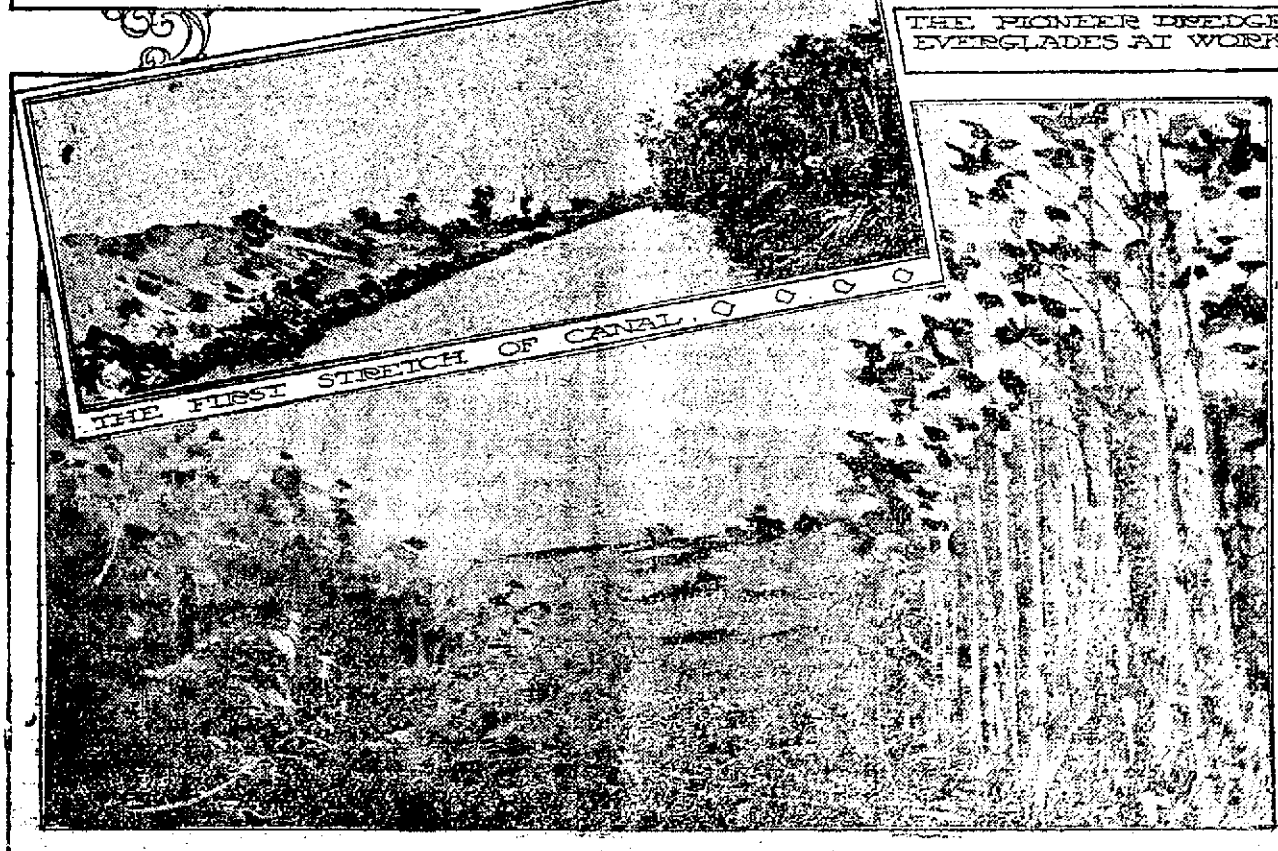

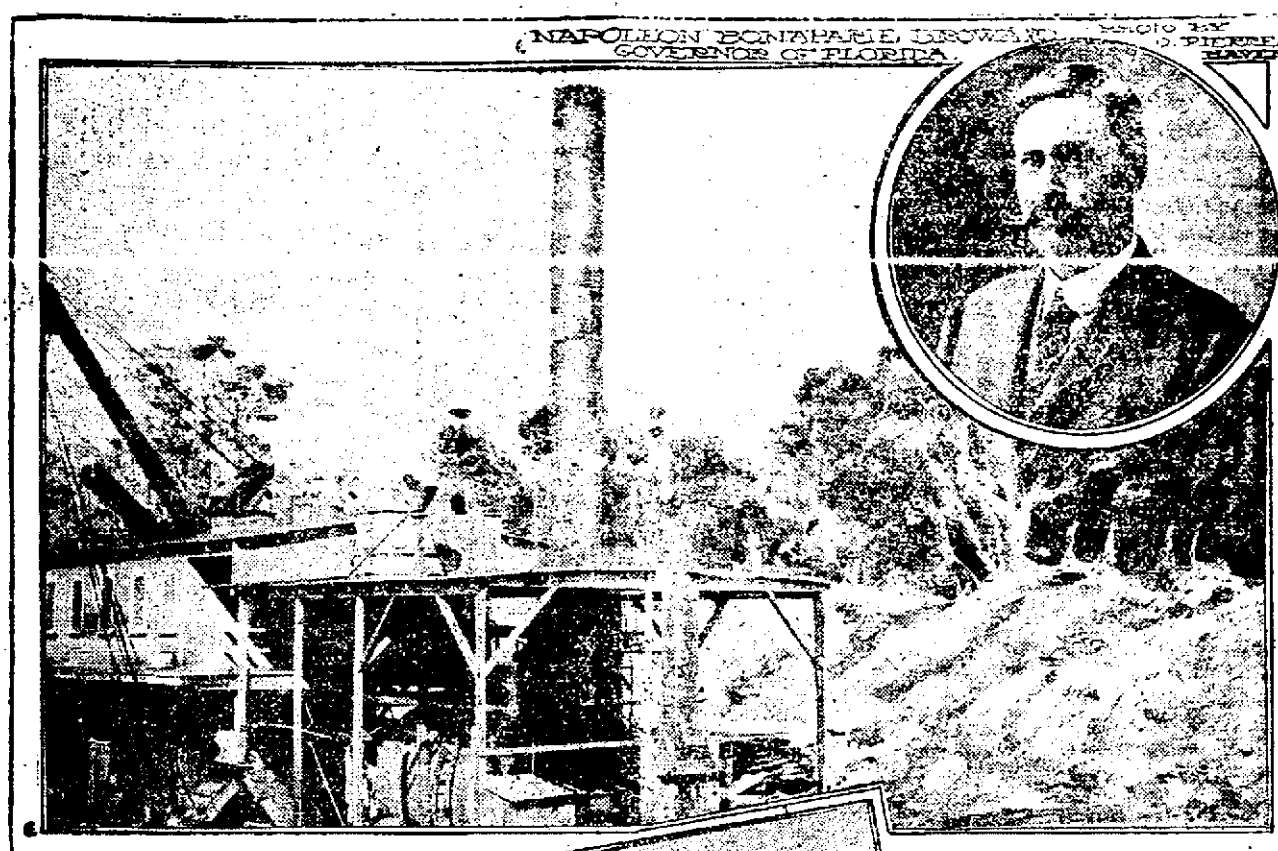

Then for several minutes the prosecutor and the witness wrestled with the medical difference between pathological conditions and perverted functions.

Continuing the cross examination of Dr. Wiley Jerome asked what element of insanity he could find in a man shooting another, then walking away and saying, "He ruined my wife."

"Nothing," replied Wiley, who started to qualify his answer, but was cut off. Jerome kept up his attacks and drove Wiley finally to admit that if the facts contained in the hypothetical question were considered, he would not be prepared to swear the defendant was insane. The witness said he reached the conclusion that Thaw must have been insane after reading about the shooting and recalling the street car incident when Thaw insisted on having the window blind down. The prosecutor questioned the doctor on pathological conditions and perverted functions. Wiley said he did not know what the Rimborg test for insanity was. Jerome kept up a bewildering maze of medical questions, which kept Wiley in a continual fret. The recess hour found him still under fire. The judge interrupted and inquired, "Will you be very long?" "Oh, yes," replied Jerome. "I found the witness very interesting."

FLORIDA EMERGING FROM BONDAGE UNDER GOVERNOR BROWARD.

ON THE EDGE OF THE GLADES AN UNFOLDING PROJECT FOR THE DREDGES.

Tallahassee, Fla., Feb. 5.—Things are just beginning to happen in Florida.

The great internal improvement of the state, which has been neglected for many years, is under way and there is political indication that the work which has begun under the direction and at the instance of Governor Napoleon Bonaparte Broward will be continued until the projects and the State has reclaimed the immense areas that have lain foul as well as fallow many years under water.

The swamp and overflowed lands referred to include that vast section of the State below the Lake Okechobee known as the Everglades. The fame of the Everglades has made it a place in fiction and has made the area subject for countless magazine stories.

Possibly the section has been regarded as a great deal more of a bet noir by previous administrations than it really is. Certain it is that Governor Broward has demonstrated the feasibility of draining and reclaiming the area, and experts of the national government having declared it entirely free of engineering difficulties, there remains nothing for the people to do except await with patience the completion of the project, which was planned half a century ago.

Fifty years ago the State had 20,000,000 acres of land and now it holds about 3,000,000, having given the rest to railroads in such princely lots as to make the building of railroads in Florida, a bonanza to be sought. For example, the Louisville & Nashville railroad was granted 27,680 acres of land for each mile of railroad constructed in the State. Of this amount the State had decided

2,280,000 acres when the Jennings administration, which preceded that of the present governor, declined to deed any more land to the railroads. The Louisville & Nashville railroad has brought suit against the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund, composed of the governor and his cabinet, for the recovery of 1,447,000 acres which it asserts is still due under legislative grants.

When the Everglades are reclaimed the richest section of the State will be open to settlement and the State will have gained an asset estimated at $150,000,000.

The first dredge, which has been at work six months, will be supplemented by the work of a second dredge, which begins work next week on the edge of the glades. According to the conservative estimates of Governor Broward and the experts, the work will require not less than five years for completion.

RESIGNATIONS

Or Insurance Election Inspector Will Not Be Accepted by Superintendent Kelsey.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Superintendent Otto Kelsey of the state insurance department said that he would not accept the resignations of Messrs. Kinkead and Marks, named by him as inspectors of election of the New York Life Insurance company. "Acceptance might throw the whole election into confusion," said Mr. Kelsey. Superintendent Kelsey said he believed the counting of the ballots would be completed by April.

TENDER FLESH OF HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS CRUELY BURNED

Indianapolis, Feb. 5.—Being initiated into the Alpha Gamma Tau Sorority, a high school society, has proved to be a serious matter to Hazel Reinsner, Miss Bertha Hoffman and Miss Lillian Fern. They have been under the care of physicians for three days without any prospect of relief. The young women were branded with the letters "A. G. T." almost an inch high. This was done with a brush dipped in acid. The solution burned into the flesh marking Miss Reinsner and Miss Fern for life.

Before Miss Hoffman was initiated the others complained so much of the pain the acid was diluted. She may escape permanent injury.

CURRENT RUMORS CHALLENGED BY SECRETARY SHAW

Who Says That the Reorganization of the Treasury Department Has Already Begun.

New York, Feb. 5.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw was in the city, and when his attention was called to a statement that Secretary Connelley is to reorganize the treasury department from top to bottom, smilingly remarked: "Some Washington correspondence must have learned something of what is already being done, for I announced in cabinet meeting a week or more ago that the reorganization of the bookkeeping in the department was in progress and consubstantiated my successor that he would be able to see its consummation. The other intimations that certain financial interests have received advantageous 'tips' from the department is both false and gratuitous. I did not receive my appointment at the request of any financial interest, nor have the plans of the treasury department during the five years of my incumbency been controlled by the advice of any one interested or by all interests combined, and none of them has known in advance what was to be done."

GHASTLY FIND

Mother and Two Children Discovered With Throats Cut—Murder or Suicide?

Ottawa, Kan., Feb. 5.—The bodies of Mrs. Frank Smuck and her two children, a boy aged 7 and a girl 3, were found with their throats cut in the home of Mrs. Smuck at Centropolis, a village 12 miles northwest of here. It is not known whether it is a case of murder and suicide or of triple murder. Mr. Smuck has not been at home for several months and his whereabouts are not known.

HAUGH WILL DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

His Attorneys Allowed His Appeal to the Supreme Court to go by Default.

Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—The attorney for Dr. Oliver Haugh, the Dayton engineer who was sentenced to the electric chair for the murder of his wife, was allowed his appeal to the supreme court to go by default and appeared for Haugh is ready to meet his fate in the electric chair. On Monday the supreme court accepted the Haugh case for review and suspended all other sentences indefinitely. Under the rule of court the case should have been perfected in five months. That time has elapsed and the attorneys being in default of the case the court Tuesday dismissed the case for want of preparation. It is now up to the court to fix a new date for Haugh's electrocution, which will be done in a few days.

THIRTY LIVES WERE LOST IN MINE HORROR

Elkins, W. Va., Feb. 5.—Efforts are being made this morning to repair the motor which operates the fan in Mine No. 25, of the Davis Coal company so that men may enter the shaft to rescue the thirty or more miners entombed there, the result of an explosion Monday. In an attempt to enter the mine last evening Daniel R. Jones, the superintendent, was overcome by gas, and died before he could be raised to the surface. Two other men were overcome but were finally resuscitated.

Eight men were known to be dead, all but two of them are foreigners. When the explosion occurred twenty miners were at work near a seldom used entrance. They were hurled against the sides of a passageway but all escaped. One of them declares that at least 30 men were in a passageway further in the mine. That number is missing, according to the timekeeper's record. All hope of saving the entombed men has been abandoned. An attempt will be made to bring the bodies to the surface as soon as the machinery can be put in working order.

Elkins, W. Va., Feb. 5.—Between 25 and 30 miners were killed by an explosion at the Davis Coal and Coke company's mine No. 25, at Thomas near this city. The explosion was terrific and badly damaged the mine. It was the third disaster in West Virginia within two weeks.

When the rescuing party entered the mine, the bodies of six foreigners and one American were found at a distance of 100 feet from the shaft. Before further progress could be made, a deadly wave of poisonous fumes enveloped the rescuing party, which was composed of General Manager Ott, D. M. Boyd, superintendent Henry mine; Daniel Jones, mine boss; Arthur Steward and John Jenkins. Before the rescuing party could reach the surface, Jones, the mine boss, died from suffocation.

Efforts are being made to enter the mine again, but without success. The air fans were demolished by the explosion and the mine is full of dangerous afterdamp. There is no possible hope that the men still in the mine are alive. While the exact number of entombed men is not known at this time, the number is estimated at about 30, and it is thought probable that there might be more.

Owing to the dangerous afterdamp and the lack of ventilation, it was almost certain death for the rescuing party to enter the drift, and several of these were brought out almost dead. While it is known that it is nearly a mile from the entrance to the heading of the drift, the dangerous condition can be realized. The bodies so far brought out were the first found. It is supposed that those farther from the entrance are burned and mangled. Nearly all were Italians, Hungarians and Poles. One of the bodies recovered was an American.

INSANE WITNESS AT MURDER TRIAL DID NOT TESTIFY

ONLY EYE WITNESS TO SHOOTING OF HOMER COLLAPSED IN COURT.

DOCTOR'S WIFE ON THE STAND

And Herself to be a "Willing" Witness, Bitter Against Her Husband.

New York, Feb. 5.—After Mrs. Julia Simpson had taken the stand Monday night and with supreme composure testified against her husband, Dr. James W. Simpson, the aristocratic New York physician who is on trial at Riverhead, L. I., charged with the murder of his father-in-law, and who has been in jail a year, the unexpected happened, and it was decided that the case should go to the jury after all.

Mrs. Simpson looked emphatic upon every point likely to tell against her husband and was always ready to answer questions along that line before the court had a chance to rule upon the objections of the opposing counsel.

Apart from the cold and deliberate bearing of the wife while on the stand another melodrama tinge was given to the night session when Dr. Frank Wisniewski, the Polish boy formerly worked in the Horner stables, and who admitted to be the only eye witness to the shooting, was called to testify. Ever since the occurrence the boy has been confined in the King's Park Asylum for the Insane although it is said that most of the time he is entirely rational.

Escorted by Bernard Wolf, who was to have acted as interpreter, the boy was brought into court and told to raise his right hand for the oath. Instead of doing so he stood with his arms hanging loosely at his side and his eyes bent vacantly to the floor. A series of questions put by the interpreter caused no change in this attitude, although Wolf told the court that he had recently been talking freely with the boy about the case. Eventually Wisniewski dropped into the chair and covered his face with his hands, whereupon he was withdrawn as a witness.

A negro national fair will be held at Mobile, Ala., in November.

SNOW SLIDE IN A MINING CAMP BURIES TWENTY

THREE BUILDINGS AND OCCUPANTS UNDER FIFTY FEET OF SNOW.

BLINDING SNOW STORM RAGES

And All Roads Are Blocked, Making Rescue Work Difficult and Dangerous.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 5.—A snow slide of immense proportions swept down the side of Monarch mountain on a little mining camp 18 miles west of Littleton about 9 o'clock Monday night burying 18 or 20 persons. Mrs. Fred Mason and an unknown man are known to be dead. Three business houses were buried under 50 feet of snow. The occupants had no warning. Ten people have been taken out and found to be uninjured.

James Leckey was found alive but pinned and it may be hours before the others are rescued.

Steve Skinner's saloon, Fred Mason's rooming house and Fred Schrader's restaurant were wrecked. The force of the slide was so great that it crossed the street from these buildings and caved in the front of the Parrel Hotel. The family of Fred Mason, eight in number, and Fred Schragner's family of five, were buried.

A man in from the camp, having started before the slide occurred, says there is a blinding snow storm raging and the snow is waist deep on the level.

A telephone message was sent to Salida and nearby towns for help but the roads are blocked by the immense snow fall. Monarch is one of the oldest camps in the state.

THAW TRIAL

New York, Feb. 5.—Harry Thaw goes before the jury on a plea of hereditary insanity. This fact developed in the reply of the prisoner's counsel to the opening address of Assistant Prosecutor Garvan. It was asserted that Thaw in slaying White believed he was acting as an agent of Providence, that real or fancied wrongs committed against him by the architect and former friend of his wife, had boiled and bubbled in his brain until at last there came the explosive impulse to kill. When the deed was done, Thaw made no move to escape its consequences. "You will hear the story of his insanity," Attorney John Gleason, for the defense, promised the jury, "from his mother, from his wife, from his relatives and from his physicians. You will judge him by his acts, by the hereditary and stress which entered into his madness, and when you come to judge him you will say to yourself that his act may have been one of insanity, but it was not one of crime."

Thaw's counsel told the story of the prisoner's love for the girl he was to make his wife. He met Evelyn Nesbit in 1901, and there began in him an honorable love and regard for the girl. He told her mother of his love. The girl was in a precarious condition following a serious operation in a sanitarium, and Thaw suggested to the mother that she take Evelyn abroad to recuperate. It was arranged that Thaw should accompany the two as the open and avowed suitor of the daughter. In 1903 he asked her to marry him and she refused. "The reason for this refusal you will hear from her lips," announced Mr. Gleason. "Suffice it to say the reason had to do with an incident in her life with reference to Stanford White."

Thus laying the ground for the plea of insanity, the defendant's lawyer de-

Thaw's remark to her husband: "Yes, but look what a fix you are in now." To this last remark Thaw replied: "Dearie, I have probably saved your life." It was brought out that Thaw looked back at his victim as he walked away with a staring look in his eyes.

Mr. Garvan's outline of the state's testimony was the briefest possible story of the crime. He told how White went to the roof garden on Madison Square to see the initial production of a summer musical comedy, and then related in simple language the incident of the killing. "The people claim," he concluded, "that it was a cruel, deliberate, malicious, premeditated taking of a human life. After proving the fact to you, we will ask you to find the defendant guilty of the crime of murder in the first degree."

Lawrence White, the 19-year-old son of Stanford White, occupied the stand as the first witness for the prosecution. Young White, who is a Harvard student, was not a material witness. He was with his father at dinner the evening of the tragedy, but left him before he went to the Madison Square Garden. White was alone, it was testified, when Thaw approached slowly from behind, wheeled, faced him, and sent three bullets into his body and brain.

The rumor that there were to be further changes in the jury box went not down until Assistant District Attorney Garvan actually began his address. It was said that District Attorney Jerome had brought all the pressure and persuasion at his command to gain consent for the removal of one or two of the men, but Thaw's counsel held out against all pleading for a further revision of the trial panel.

HUNTING POLO BALL FOUND GOLD WATCH

Peculiar Case Ferreted Out by Newark Police Officers—Watch is Recovered.

The merry skaters on the floor of the Palace rink last night who saw a corpulent policeman on his knees raking under one of the stoves were very curious to know why he was in that undignified position. The matter was explained Tuesday morning when Chief Sheridan made public a report of the matter.

Last Tuesday, a watch was stolen from a woman at Cambridge. The chief proved to be Milford Morehead and when arrested at Cambridge yesterday he confessed. He told the officers a peculiar story. He said that after stealing the watch he came to Newark and went to the skating rink in East Newark.

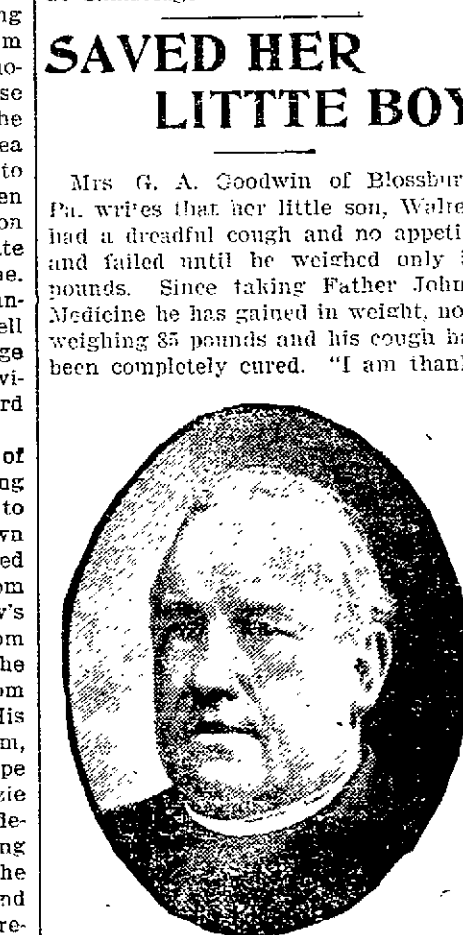

He said he was sitting near a stove watching the skaters when he noticed a policeman come into the rink and thought the officer was after him. Not wanting to be arrested with the watch on his clothes, Morehead stealthily tossed the timepiece under the stove.

Attendants at the rink noticed Officer Hager scratching about under the stove and surmising that he was after the watch, told him that the timepiece was in the hands of the rink management.

It seems that the polo players while practicing at the rink last Thursday, knocked the ball under the stove and while hunting for it, they found the watch. It was returned to the owner at Cambridge.

SAVED HER LITTLE BOY

Mrs. G. A. Goodwin of Blossburg, Pa., writes that her little son, Walter, had a dreadful cough and no appetite and failed until he weighed only 55 pounds. Since taking Father John's Medicine he has gained in weight, now weighing 85 pounds and his cough has been completely cured. "I am thankful to know that there is such a grand medicine," writes Mrs. Goodwin, "and I recommend it to all troubled with coughs, colds or throat and lung troubles."

Remember, Father John's Medicine is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the eminent specialist who prescribed it for the late Rev. Father John O'Brien by whom it derived its name. ## CHIEF'S SALARY MAY BE RAISED TO $100 A MONTH

COUNCILMAN MOSER INTRODUCES ORDINANCE TO CHANGE CHIEF'S SALARY.

MAYOR COLLECTS $332

Old Water Company Refuses City's Payment for Fire Hydrant Rent. Monday's Meeting.

Councilman Moser came back at the Republican contingent in the city council Monday night for their action in refusing to allow the increase in the salary of Chief James S. Sheridan from $75 to $85, by introducing an ordinance which, if passed, will increase his salary to $100. This is the fulfillment of a promise made by Mr. Moser at the last meeting when sparks of fire flashed frequently as Mr. Moser and Mr. Beadle clashed on the council floor.

Mr. Moser's ordinance as introduced last night is entitled, "An ordinance regulating the number of patrolmen and their salaries." It is similar in every respect to the one passed at the last council meeting when the chief's salary was reduced to $75. Mr. Moser claims that recent court decisions makes it illegal for the chief of police to retain any fees collected in any cases and that this reduces the chief's income more than $25 per month. The ordinance was referred to the board of safety and the Mayor.

Mayor McCleery reported to the city council that he had collected $111.85 for the county and $220.20 for the city. The report was received and filed.

City Auditor Munnath made a report to the council stating that Attorney H. M. Verrill, representing the old bond holders of the Newark, Ohio, Water company had refused to accept a draft for $4,520 in payment for the fire hydrant rentals from September 1 to December 31, 1906.

With the city auditor's report came a letter from Mr. Verrill in which he stated that he felt that it would not be fair to the bondholders in the water company to accept this as it was the same rate charged under the contract which expired in August last year. He stated that this did not mean that the old company would not accept a contract under the same terms but inasmuch as such a contract had not been made, he did not care to take any action which might be detrimental to the interests of the bond holders.

It was learned upon inquiry that the board of service prepared a contract last September and forwarded it to Mr. Verrill but that it had not been returned. The auditor's report was received and filed.

The auditor submitted his annual report showing the amounts received and amounts expended during the year with the balances in each fund. This report was received and filed.

A communication was read from Mrs. Mary Fromholtz, who owns property in the James H. Smith addition, notifying the council that she would resist the collection of the assessment against her property for the sewer which passes her house. She explained that the connection which was extended to the curb would enter the cellar of her property several inches above the floor. The communication was received and filed.

Several minor ordinances were up for second reading.

There was no report of the street committee on the street railway matter regarding the granting of a franchise to the Central Ohio Traction company.

BLIZZARD RAGING IN THE EAST

New York, Feb. 5.—An unknown man met death today as a result of the fierce snowstorm on the elevated railroad station in Brooklyn. After waiting an hour on the platform for a train, the man fell unconscious in a drift of snow. Miss Sarah Vandeveldt, the ticket agent, tried in vain to drop the man into the ticket booth, but her strength was unequal to the task. By the time she could summon a policeman the man was dead.

The blizzard raging here is almost as bad as that of 1887. The entire east is in the grip of the blizzard. The traffic on the street railways and steam roads is either delayed or tied up all together. Shipping is suffering and there is much suffering among the poor. New England is an equal sufferer with New York, the state and coast from Maine to Maryland being snowbound.

PRESIDENT RIDES IN SNOW.
Washington, Feb. 5.—Washington was visited by a blizzard last night and it is still raging. It was a night after the President's own heart. When the secret service men were not looking he slipped out of the rear entrance to the White House and took a long tramp in the snow. He went entirely alone.

A God-Given Medicine

REV. JOHN C. OREBAUGH.

Rev. John C. Orebaugh, a prominent clergyman and temperance advocate, says that DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY is a God-Given Medicine.

Thousands of temperance advocates and clergymen throughout the country agree with Dr. Orebaugh, and have the courage of their convictions, to recommend DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY as the greatest tonic stimulant and body-builder known to science.

"I have suffered from irregular appetite, diarrhoea, then constipation, abnormal temperature, often below normal; at times the memory is dull and I feel stupid. I have tried many treatments with no beneficial results. Pardon me to furthermore say that I have always been opposed to whiskey as a beverage, but have always believed that PURE whiskey used as a medicine was a God-Given one. I NEVER found PURE until I got 'DUFFY'S.' The best I could get seemed to increase my trouble and would burn in my stomach, but I find nothing disagreeable with DUFFY'S. It has done me a vast good and I trust others may use it through my recommendation."

—(REV.) JOHN C. OREBAUGH, Anderson, Ind., Oct. 2, 1906.

AMUSEMENTS

GANS-NELSON FIGHT PICTURES.
Manager Matthews of the Auditorium, when seen regarding the lifelike pictures of the great Gans-Nelson prize fight, which are to be seen here Tuesday evening and Wednesday matinee and evening, made the following statement to an Advocate reporter:

"The Gans-Nelson light weight championship battle at Goldfield, Nevada, last September, was the greatest in ring history. It lasted 42 rounds. The gate receipts exceeded $80,000; there were more than 500 women present, and the films showing the fight from the call of time on the first round to the final blow in the forty-second, measure 11,276 feet. It will be a spectacle well worth seeing."

RUFUS RASTUS THURSDAY.

With the combination of such an exceptionally clever colored comedian as Ernest Hogan and his fifty odd interesting fun and song assistants, and a wonderfully successful musical comedy play like "Rufus Rastus" there will be amusement at the Auditorium next Thursday in perfect time with the general demands.

Walter Ware and Forest Huff are good singers, both having good voices and using them well. The pretty solo, Bohemia, was the best number in the entire show from a musical standpoint and was sung most admirably.

The chorus might be improved in a number of ways. While mostly good looking people with good voices the numbers lacked the volume and worked unevenly.

An interesting sight to those who can only imagine how a show is "worked" behind the curtain, was the setting of the second act of Monday night's show with the curtain up. The boys had little chance to show off because of the fact that this act is very easily set, but few people realize what an art there is in arranging the stage for a big show, so that it will give the right impression from the front, and doing it quickly.

When there is a large amount of heavy scenery to be shifted into position the speed and apparent ease with which it is handled is almost remarkable to the person who gets the first glimpse of it from the stage. And to say that the local stage hands can do it right is putting it mildly.

ISLE OF BONG BONG.

B. C. Whitney's "Isle of Bong Bong" appearing at the Auditorium Monday night for the benefit of the local organization of theatrical stage hands and employees was fairly well patronized and fairly presented. The company which is a good sized one composed of hard workers, has some very good performers. Aside from the work of John W. Ransome, who is an exceedingly clever German dialect comedian, there is not much to the piece except the music and that is very good. The featured numbers, Heap Love, and San Antonio, were of a very high order and made a decided hit here. They are well written and if the "catchy" style could be termed first class music, these two numbers especially were of that class. Alice Yorke, while good, has not the opportunity to exhibit much ability in this piece when compared to her place in the "Isle of Spice," and her singing was not so good this season as on previous appearances in Newark.

Walter Ware and Forest Huff are good singers, both having good voices and using them well. The pretty solo, Bohemia, was the best number in the entire show from a musical standpoint and was sung most admirably.

The chorus might be improved in a number of ways. While mostly good looking people with good voices the numbers lacked the volume and worked unevenly.

Took Railroad Iron.

Nancy Haffer and Mary Smith were arrested and brought before Mayor McCleary on a charge of stealing railroad iron. It was proved that the Smith woman had picked up bits of railroad iron on the railroad property while her companion merely assisted her in carrying it away, happening along as the Smith woman was ready to start home. The sentence in the case was withheld by the court. Several plain drunks were fined.

Submarine Bell Useful.

As an aid to navigators the submarine bell, suspended under the hulls of lightships and buoys all along the coast, is "making good," according to the frequent reports received from captains of ocean and coastwise steamers, says the New York Tribune. It was blowing a gale from the northeast on Jan. 17, with thick snow, when the officer on the bridge of the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria heard the Sandy Hook lightship bell five miles away. On the same day the captain of the pilotboat Ambrose Snow heard the same bell at a distance of six miles. The captain of the H. F. Dimock heard the bell on Cornfield lightship twenty-five minutes before the whistle was audible. The Cunard liner Saxonia heard the bell on Boston lightship on Jan. 17 five miles away.

The Hydrophobia Menace.

Since hydrophobia is transmitted by inoculation and its virus resides in the saliva of its victim, the only absolute safeguard is to keep dogs muzzled when at large. A muzzle is a nuisance no doubt and in the immense majority of cases needless, for almost invariably the mischief maker is the stray cur, belonging to no one in particular and coming from nobody knows where. But it seems impracticable to frame an effective regulation for the protection of the public from such irresponsible and dangerous creatures without making it applicable to all dogs.—New York Tribune.

The court refused to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial and ordered the verdict to stand. Kibler, Hunter, and Montgomery for the plaintiff, and Jones & Jones for the defendant.

A Veteran Juror.

Among the jurors sitting on the case of the State of Ohio vs. Della Noe and others, charged with assault, which has been on trial in the Probate court for the past two days, was Col. ## GENERAL SHERWOOD

Said to be Boomed for Governor by Chairman Garber of Democratic State Committee.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 5.—A telegram received from Toledo said that Congressman Harvey Garber, chairman of the Democratic State Executive committee, would back General Isaac R. Sherwood for the gubernatorial nomination next year. General Sherwood was asked about the rumor.

"I had not heard of it," he said.

"Would you accept the nomination for Governor?" he was asked.

"Oh, I don't know. I hardly think so. I've never given any attention to the matter and hadn't heard the rumor. I doubt if there is anything in it. Mr. Garber, of course, does not make the nomination."

"But he controls the state organization," he was suggested.

"I know, but the party makes the nomination. I don't believe I want to be interviewed at this time."

If Chairman Garber is taking up the matter of a Democratic gubernatorial candidate it is believed here that he is beginning early to lay his plans for check-mating, if possible. Mayor Tom L. Johnson's ambition.

GRAND OLD MAN CAMPAIGN.

Washington, Feb. 5.—A "Grand Old Man" campaign is planned on both sides in Ohio next year when Chairman Garber and other Ohio Democrats were satisfied that Governor Harris is slated for re-election. It was suggested that General Sherwood of Toledo should be the Democratic nominee.

Sherwood and Harris are the same age, 71. Both were generals in the civil war and visiting Democrats from Ohio quietly gave the tip that in good time the Sherwood candidacy would be given a grand boom with special stress upon the "Grand Old Man" idea.

Nonfeilable Bottle Invention.

Consul General B. H. Ridgely of Barcelona, Spain, calls attention to a very practical new Spanish device in the form of an "inclosure of bottles, flasks and other receptacles" which has been invented and will soon be put upon the market. A patent for this invention has also been applied for in the United States. Its purpose is to prevent the liquid contained in bottles and other similar vessels from being extracted and replaced with liquid of an inferior quality. The invention compels the breaking of the seal or bottle for extracting the contents, so that the parts may not be replaced in the same condition. It will be particularly valuable in the matter of mineral waters, which are abundantly sold in Europe as well as in the United States and in which there is much sharp practice. The inventor is Don Raimundo Garbarro Julian of Jerez de la Frontera.

It appears there are not many these days who care or desire to say just exactly what they think in a theological way. Not conscience, but commerce makes towards of perhaps the great majority.

Very, very many fear to tell the truth.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism. No a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and rages of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I can cure all the cases of this horrid disease. I found it in the action of this remedy as freely as does nature when added to pure water. And then, when I added these poisonous wastes freely to the system and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no cause to suffer longer without help. Weeds and in confidence recommend

ALIENS AS A MENACE.

Goldwin Smith Favors Military Training in Schools to Quell Violence.

Goldwin Smith has written a letter to the Cornell Era advocating military drill in schools and colleges, so that Americans may be prepared to quell any disturbances due to the great influx of foreigners, says a dispatch from Ithaca, N. Y.

"You are receiving," he writes, "a vast inflow of alien immigration, some of it from questionable sources. Apparently you feel unable to close the gates. Your cities will soon be hardly American."

"A large and increasing number of the immigrants now bring with them from the scenes of political and social conflict in Europe tendencies adverse to the principles of American civilization. At more than one point has there been disturbance arising from this source. It is surely to be desired that at any critical moment calling for military action in defense of public order the republic should feel safe under the protection not only of a paid soldiery, but of her loyal citizens at large."

Secretary Taft's Program.
Secretary Taft is going to make two excursions out of the country this year. He is going to inspect the Panama canal first. Later he will visit the Philippines, and will open the first legislative assembly on the islands. By the time he returns from the latter trip presidential politics will be beginning to become quite interesting. No doubt his friends will organize a reception for him which will start his campaign for the Republican nomination in good shape. If Secretary Root proposes to be a candidate he will have to arrange another trip for himself abroad to counteract the effects of Secretary Taft's visit to the Philippines. The islanders will be sure to greet their former governor general with much enthusiasm, and they will help to supply campaign material for his boomers on this side of the Pacific. Unless Senator Foraker can manage to control the Ohio delegation to the Republican National convention the chances for Secretary Taft being his party's nominee would seem to be quite favorable. Of course, however, very much depends upon the aspect of the incumbent of the White House toward his candidacy.

As Harriman controls California politically, through the railroad monopoly in the state and by the money he furnishes the Republican politicians, why not let him also protect California from the Japanese instead of the rest of us bothering about it? The people of any state that allow a railroad or trust baron to control them, deserve all that they get. Such a remedy is rather hard on the Democrats and other good people who have been fighting corrupt Republican rule, but they must spur up and fight the harder and call upon all good citizens to join with them.

Chronic Promises.
The chronic promises of the Republican party that the tariff will be "revised by its friends" have now been changed by adding, "after the next presidential election," if then it be found necessary. It is said the President has arrived at the conclusion that the best way to revise the tariff is by means of reciprocity treaties, under which concessions can be made to other countries that make equivalent concessions in favor of our products. That was the policy expressly declared in the tariff law, but when President McKinley had negotiated a large number of reciprocity treaties, the United States Senate refused to ratify them. As the same trust controlled Republican senators are still in control of the Senate and the Republican standard-bearers of the House of Representatives feel the same way, how is the reciprocity program to be carried into effect? When the trust and corporation magnates turn saints and no longer furnish campaign funds for the G. O. P., the tariff may be revised, but it will be done by the Democrats, for the Republican party will be out of power.

Lenten Regulations.
Bishop Hartley of the Columbus diocese has issued to the Roman Catholics of his diocese, the Lenten regulations, contained in the papal bull on that subject. These regulations are to be observed generally throughout the Catholic world during the Lenten season. They are as follows:
"First—All the faithful who have completed their 21st year and are not over the age of 60, are, unless hindered by hard work, or by sickness, bound to observe the fast of Lent."
"Second—All who are obliged to fast must abstain from the use of meat and take only one full meal a day, which is usually taken about noon. The Sundays are not fast days."
"Third—The use of meat, by special dispensation, is allowed at any time on Sunday, and at one principal meal on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, with the exception of Ember Saturday, February 23, and Holy Saturday, March 30.
"Fourth—Meat and fish must not be eaten at the same meal and not on the Sundays of Lent."
"Fifth—Eggs, butter, cheese and milk are allowed at dinner and the evening collation."
"Sixth—A small refreshment commonly called collation is allowed in the evening. It should not exceed the fourth part of an ordinary meal, or eight ounces."
"Seventh—In the morning, some warm liquid, such as tea, coffee or thin chocolate, together with a small piece of bread, may be taken; no butter or other condiment is allowed."
"Eighth—Lard and suet may be used in preparing food."
"Ninth—When dinner cannot be taken at noon, it is allowed to invert the order, taking the collation early in the day, and dinner in the evening."
"Tenth—Persons exempted from fasting, namely, on account of tender or advanced age, hard labor or sickness are allowed to eat meat more than once a day on days when the use of meat is allowed."
HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.
When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.
Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous quack. It allays itching instantly, makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. JAPAN HAS SENT ULTIMATUM. SAYS CAPTAIN HOBSON.
New York, Feb. 5.—Following the statement of Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson that the United States has already received an ultimatum from the Japanese government and that he has seen it and the additional statement of Senator Perkins of California, that a fight between this country and Japan is inevitable, men throughout the country are discussing the probability of a war between the nations. Captain Hobson made the cannot be cured, but it CAN be prevented. And all who are threatened should quickly safeguard themselves against this hopeless half-death. Are YOU threatened? In the blood is a certain impurity, known as uric acid. This impurity is frequently deposited in the walls of the blood vessels until the arteries become brittle like chalk. When the blood pressure becomes high, these hardened arteries break, and the blood rushes out over the brain. This blood clots, and by pressure, destroys the action of the brain cells covered by the clot. This results in paralysis. Fleshly, short, thick-necked people are most liable, because their blood usually contains more uric acid. You must get rid of that uric acid. You must wash every unnatural trace out of your system. The great Nature has provided for this very purpose is LIFE PLANT. LIFE PLANT goes all through your system and dissolves every trace of uric acid sand, leaving the body not only free from disease and in perfect running order—but free from the very danger of death itself.

No matter what the nature of your complaint is, write your symptoms fully to Dr. L. J. Mizer, President of the Life Plant Co., Canton, O., and receive his personal advice free. Every household should have our helpful book—GOOD HEALTH—mailed free to you on request.

The Socialists won at Bielefeld, defeating ex-Minister Von Moeller. This district was represented by a Clerical in the last reichstag.

declaration regarding the ultimatum before the members of the Peace Society of New York in Cooper Union Friday night. The paper, he said, was given to Secretary Root by the Japanese Ambassador and in part states that either the Japanese children in San Francisco must be taken back into the schools or this country "must take the consequences."
The authorities deny that any such ultimatum has been received and call Captain Hobson a "romancer."

BOWSER THE GENIUS.
Designs Improvements That He Thinks Will Bring Him Millions.
ONE A TWO HEADED MATCH.
Another Is a Device to Keep Pedestrians From Slipping on the Ice, and Still Another Is the Interchangeable Shoe Heel.
[Copyright, 1907, by P. C. Eastment.]
That Mr. Bowser was laboring under great mental exhilaration and excitement was plain to Mrs. Bowser the minute he entered the hall the other evening as he reached home from the office. After a look at him she asked: "Has anything unexpectedly good happened you today?"
"Not unexpectedly," he replied. "I've always known that it would come sooner or later."
"What is it?"
"I'll explain after dinner. Let's go right down now, as I'm as hungry as a wolf."
At the dinner table she tried to extract some information, but he would only chuckle in reply. He was in such high spirits that the cat dared to come and rub himself against his leg, and, although the cook was trembling over the tough steak, he worried it down without a word of fault. Mrs. Bowser gave him up after awhile and groaned as she thought that he might have got chicken farming on the brain again.

"MRS. BOWSER, ACROSS THE FOREHEAD OF YOUR HUSBAND YOU CAN WRITE THE WORD 'GENIUS'."
When dinner had been finished and they had reached the sitting room he was ready to explain.
"Mrs. Bowser," he began, "do you know that the man who invented the telephone has made millions of dollars out of it?"
"I presume he has."
"And that the man who invented the phonograph has an income of $42,000 a day from it?"
"It may be so."

Fortuna In Inventions.
"It is so. Invent a good thing—something that the public wants—and your fortune is made. I have had that idea to the front for the last ten years. Many and many a night when you thought I was asleep I have been working my brain over an invention to make us millionaires."
"But you never said anything about it," she replied.
"No, I never did. There are lots of things a husband never says anything about to his wife. I have kept quiet all these long years thinking to give you a glad surprise some day."

"And has the time finally come?"
"It has. Mrs. Bowser, across the forehead of your husband you can write the word 'Genius.' You can write it three times if you like, for I have invented three articles that are bound to put my name alongside of Edison's and to bring in money by the barrel."
"You don't tell me! Why, you quite take my breath away. Let us hear what you have done. As your wife I want to be the first to congratulate you."

Mr. Bowser crossed his hands behind him and swelled out his chest and promenaded up and down the room for a little and then asked:
"Mrs. Bowser, how many matches are used in the United States alone in one year?"
"Millions and millions."
"Yes, and you can make it billions and billions while you are about it. How many are used, take the whole world together?"
"The number can hardly be computed."

Designs Double Headed Match.
"You are right. It's quadrillions ten times over. Look here. I scratch this match to light my cigar. It accomplishes the purpose, burns halfway down, and I throw the other half away. Do you see the point?"
"I'm afraid not."
"Easy as falling downstairs. Make a double headed match, and you have two for one. In other words, the world uses just half as many matches as now. Saves timber, saves work, saves money. A child can see the economy of it. There will be a saving of a hundred million dollars a year by using the Bowser double headed match. What do you think of it?"
"Why, the idea looks all right," she answered in dubious tones.
"And it is all right. Now for No. 2. Why do we wear rubbers over our shoes in the winter?"
"To keep us from slipping down."
"Exactly. Over 50,000,000 pairs of rubbers are sold in the United States every winter. The world takes billions of pairs. Suppose, Mrs. Bowser, we didn't have to wear any rubbers at all? Suppose a substitute for them was invented—something costing less than a nickel? Can you figure what the saving would be?"

"It would certainly be immense," she replied.
"You are right, it would—millions and millions of dollars. My income from the patent alone will be $30,000,000 a year. When the sidewalks are slippery they sprinkle ashes on them, don't they—ashes or sand? Why not let each pedestrian carry his own? The Bowser self sprinkler and non-slipper simply consists of a hollow bamboo strapped to the outside of each leg and filled with sand or ashes. Every time you throw your leg out a spring ejects a quantity of the sand or ashes just where you are going to place your foot. One filling does for a mile walk. Filled with a funnel in one minute and no muss made. Deposits all along the principal streets for refilling. The bamboos for sale at every grocery, and one is warranted to last ten years. Made for all lengths of leg. Painted in all colors or the wood left in its natural state. Crooked bamboos for folks with crooked legs. You can take 'em off or strap 'em on quicker than you can tie a shoe. What do you think of it?"
"I shouldn't like to give you an answer until I have thought it over for a spell," answered Mrs. Bowser.
"The idea must commend itself to every one with an ounce of brains. We now pass on to No. 3. Nineteen persons out of twenty, no matter what the age or sex, run the heels of their shoes over. If it wasn't for this fact there'd hardly be a cobbler in business. Every run over heel is repaired at a cost of 15 cents, and repairs must be made at least five times a year. That is 75 cents a heel, or $1.50 for a pair of shoes. In most cases this is half the original cost. A thousand million people are going to the cobbler five times a year. Suppose their heels didn't run over? Suppose they didn't have to go to the cobbler? Suppose that gigantic sum of money could be saved?"

Changeable Shoe Heel.
"But can it be?" asked Mrs. Bowser.
"The easiest thing in the world. See that all your shoes are fitted with the Bowser interchangeable heel. Fitted with a steel spring and catch. Heels taken off and changed in thirty seconds. By changing the heels are bound to wear level. Sixty million dollars a year royalty for me in this alone. I was lying on my back in bed when the idea came to me. It's going to put a hundred thousand cobblers out of business, but I shall give all of them a chance to drive ice wagons. There you are, Mrs. Bowser, and now tell me whether your husband is a man with brains in his head or only an old stump?"
"Have you talked with any one about your invention?" she asked.
"No. I was waiting to hear what you would say."

"Well, if I was you I'd go over and have a talk with the druggist. I have heard it said that he is a very keen man. I'd like to know what he thinks about things."
"I'll go at once. Yes, he's a pretty sharp man, and he'll see the value of my inventions at once. Hurrah for the Bowser family! They're all right."
It was a leisure hour with the druggist, and he listened closely to all that Mr. Bowser had to say. When the story was finished he rose up and removed the hat from the head of the genius, rubbed his hand over the baldness, and, leading Mr. Bowser to the door and gently pushing him out into the winter world, he said:
"Go home and soak it, old friend."
The minutes went by, and Mrs. Bowser wondered why the genius did not return. The minutes made an hour and then two of them. Then she went to the front door to look out and saw something huddled up on the top step. It was broken hearted, and the tears had run down its cheeks and frozen hard.

"Poor Mr. Bowser!" she sighed as she helped the bundle in and laid it on the lounge and covered it up and gave it ginger tea.
The genius had fallen down once more.

SEVEN MINERS WERE KILLED
When Coal Cars on Which They Were Riding Were Ditched Near Des Moines, Ia.
Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 5.—Seven persons, all miners, were killed and 12 or more injured in a wreck of a coal train on the Northwestern railway near the corporation limits of Des Moines. The dead: John Pilstrom, Peter Axmer, Olaf Anderson, Albert Olson, Carl Larson, Samuel Drew, Andrew Lundquist. The accident was due to a forward car leaving the track and ditching the cars behind it. The train had on board about 30 miners, scattered in groups on different cars, and several passengers were in the caboose. The victims were all buried under the wreckage, and the coal, which later caught on fire, made the rescue work difficult. It is feared that when the wreckage is fully cleared away other victims may be found.

Paris, Feb. 5.—The ecclesiastical authorities apparently are pleased with the circular regarding the contracts for the leasing of churches issued by Minister of Education Briand. It is understood that at the meeting of the parish priests of Paris, held at the instance of Cardinal Richard, archbishop of Paris, the situation was viewed in a more favorable light. The priests probably will be authorized shortly to negotiate with the mayors.

Here's a Wager.

In view of the fact that there has been a great amount of discussion over the city regarding the number of vacant houses here during this winter, there are a number of persons in the city, familiar with the conditions, who are loud in denouncing what they term "knockers." In this connection a novel wager has been proposed by a Newark resident who is ready for all comers. The man in question, desiring his name withheld, offers to bet from $25 to $100 that at the present time there are not 100 vacant houses within the city limits. He further agrees to pay for the cost of counting the "empties." In case he loses, the stakeholder is Charles M. Hoover, the real estate agent.

PLANS FOR HIGH SCHOOL ADDITION ADOPTED BY BOARD OF EDUCATION

They Were Drawn by Architect Vernon Redding of Mansfield--President Beggs Entertained the Members of the Board and Several Guests at Dinner--Spring Vacation Begins March 29.

Monday was a busy day for the board of education.

Following a long special session in the afternoon, held for the purpose of considering the plans for an addition to the high school building, President F. C. Beggs took the board, Superintendent J. D. Simkins, Principal E. P. Childs, Trust Officer D. J. Jones, and Architect Vernon Redding of Mansfield to the restaurant of Joseph Kuster Jr., and entertained them at dinner. Shortly after that the board convened in regular session to again take up the consideration of the revised plans for the new building.

After allowing bills to the amount of $538.43, the details of the proposed addition were discussed with the result that the revised plans were approved and all that now remains to be done is to receive bids for the contracting. Under the contractors' bids will be included the entire work with the exception of the installation of the heating plant which will be taken up afterward.

The slight changes of the original plan submitted by the architect consisted principally of the enlargement of the auditorium on the first floor of the addition. According to the new plan the seating capacity of the hall will be 1,900 instead of the proposed 800, is in the original plan. A balcony designed for this auditorium will seat 300.

In this case, as in that of the new Woodside building, the board has arranged for much more room than is needed for the present. This movement, while criticized by some, is commended by those who are more familiar with the growth of the Newark schools in the past ten years, to be a most wise one. In the first place, while the money is appropriated for this addition to the high school building the future growth of the schools should be considered; and, second, while the addition is to be made it might as well be made right and with such care that the coming few years will not witness a demand for more rooms.

According to the present and accepted plans, the auditorium, exclusive of the stage, will extend for 72 feet east and west, and for 52 feet north and south. The first floor will also accommodate two class rooms, offices for the board of education and the superintendent of the schools, and storage rooms. On the second floor there will be four class rooms, cloak and storage rooms and the principal's office in the front. The chemical and physical laboratories will occupy large rooms on the third floor where there will also be three big rooms for the commercial department.

According to the present outlook work cannot be commenced on the addition before the first or middle of April.

Beside the discussion of the building proposition at Monday night's meeting, the board decided upon the spring vacation, which will commence with Friday, March 29, studies being resumed Monday, April 8.

On the recommendation of Prof. E. P. Childs Powers and Lyons Commercial Arithmetic was adopted for high school use and other supplies authorized to be ordered for the chemical and physical departments for the second semester's work.

Fuel is still scarce in eastern Washington, but conditions are not so urgent as earlier in the winter and little suffering is experienced.

One of the Many Unsolicited Letters.

Mr. Joseph Black, R. F. D. No. 10, Cambridge, Ohio, writes: "I want to thank The Jackson Medicine Company and the doctor for his advice for the great relief and cure that your medicines have done for me. I am satisfied that their remedies saved me from an agonizing death. When in the army I contracted eczema and it gradually extended all over my body. I also had internal eczema and large itching sores on my shoulders for nearly six years and in that time I had as many expert doctors who nearly set me crazy trying different remedies without any success. Having read Dr. Jackson's advertisement and different doctors' testimonials that all my sickness came from poison acids in the blood, I decided to try some of your Digestive and Liver Powders. I also used the Eczema Powders which healed the sores of my shoulders. I took several bottles of Blood and Nerve Tonic which gave me a great appetite and relieved me of the nervousness I suffered from. My liver and bowel tonic was also a great relief in keeping my bowels regular. I can now honestly say that after a few months' treatment I feel like a new man and all thanks due to Dr. Jackson's Remedies.

In Mr. Black's case the cause was indigestion which is the main cause of 75 per cent of all human ills. We guarantee to cure indigestion and all attending ills by using Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powders for they contain all the elements in proper proportions to digest a hearty meal, stop fermentation, throw off the gas formed and convert the food into good fresh blood, being in powder form they dissolve as soon as they reach the stomach and give instant relief. On sale by all druggists or sent direct (price, 50c and 1.00) to the following: If you want medical advice free, write to A. L. Jackson, A. M., M. D., President of The Jackson Medicine Company, Zanesville, Ohio. Dr. A. L. Jackson's Zanesville, Ohio, picture is on every package.

PAINTING PRESENTED TO JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY.

PAINTING BY JARRENT PRESENTED TO JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY

Baltimore, Feb. 5.—A painting by the celebrated John R. Sargent of the four well known medical men who gave the first name to the Johns Hopkins Hospital, has been presented to the Johns Hopkins University by Miss Mary Elizabeth Garrett, the daughter of the former president of the B. & O. railroad.

It was Miss Garrett who gave $500,000 to the medical school on condition that the school admit women on an equality with men in the medical classes, hence her interest in the medical school and its directors.

It was by her wish that Dr. William H. Welch, William Osler, William S. Halstead and Howard Kelly made a trip to London to sit for Sargent and have the group made. The painting arrived here recently and was unveiled in McCoy Hall before a distinguished gathering of Baltimoreans.

The painting measures 11 by 9 feet 6 inches. The famous Dr. Osler, who was professor in medicine at the hospital, occupies the center of the picture, with his left arm thrown over the edge of the table. Dr. Welch, president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and professor of pathology at the university, is shown with a pointed gray beard. Dr. Halstead, professor of surgery, is standing in the rear, while Dr. Kelly, professor of gynecology, is seated with his head resting on one of his hands.

These four physicians were the real organizers of the university medical school. They took up their duties in 1892 and are still identified with the institution with the exception of Dr. Osler, who went to Oxford.

Granville, Feb. 5.—County Infirmary Director William A. Norris and wife of this place, were called to Frazzysburg Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mr. Norris' brother, Albert Norris, who died at his home in that place on Sunday at 12 o'clock (noon). The deceased had been afflicted with cancer for the past two years. Everything that human skill could do to stop the ravages of the disease was done, but to no avail and he gradually succumbed until death relieved him of his sufferings. Mr. Norris was a brave soldier in the civil war, and is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. He is survived by his widow and four children, two sons and two daughters. The funeral services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church at Frazzysburg of which the deceased had been a member for many years, and the Rev. Mr. Miller will officiate. The interment will be made in the Frazzysburg cemetery. Mr. E. Cary Norris of Newark is also a brother of the deceased.

The funeral of the late Joseph Eggleston, who died on last Friday night, after a short illness of pneumonia at the advanced age of 92 years, took place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were held at the home of Mr. Fred Eggleston on Plumb street, and were attended by a large number of the relatives and friends of the deceased. Rev. Mr. Rose conducted the services at the house and Rev. Mr. Dempster, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiated at the grave. The interment was made in beautiful Maple Grove cemetery.

"Don't burn open gas stoves in your room. If you do, your neighbors may find you oversleeping yourself some of these mornings. You had better sleep in a snow bank, with no shelter, than risk your life in a room with an open gas stove."

Some of our ice men have already commenced cutting ice. They are taking no chances, but are filling their ice houses with the first ice, which is of fine quality.

Granville township farmers are feeling good over the wheat prospect. The growing wheat is now protected by a "snow blanket."

Miss Mary Williams celebrated her eightieth birthday anniversary at her home a short distance north of town on Monday by entertaining quite a number of her young friends. Games of all kinds were enjoyed, and an elegant supper was served. She was the recipient of many valuable presents.

If you are not the victim of a severe cold, you are one of the lucky ones in a thousand.

The hen seems to be a little less conservative and eggs in Granville are not quite so high as they were.

The merry fizzle of the sleigh bells is heard in the village again.

We have been having some real winter for the past few days.

It is reported that farmers in this vicinity are already looking for labor for next spring and summer, as help is very scarce.

Mr. Evan Jones of Columbus, died at his home in that city on Sunday. The deceased was a brother of Mr. E. L. Jones of this place, and the body will be brought here on Wednesday.

WHY SO WEAK?

Kidney Troubles May Be Sapping Your Life Away—Newark People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Here is a Newark testimony to prove it.

Wesley Rowland, express driver, living on Washington street, near Mill street, East Newark, O., says:

"Many a time my back pained me so and was so weak that I could not load my wagon. If I stooped to pick up anything it was all I could do to straighten up. My back pained me so at night that I could not sleep. I would wake up again with terrible pain through the back and shoulders as if I were in a cramp. I tried liniments and various remedies but found nothing that helped me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store. Three boxes were all that were required to cure me and the cure has been permanent. That was two years ago and I have had no trouble of the kind since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TIGERS HAVE A FINE CHANCE TO CAPTURE THE HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP.

PRINCETON HOCKEY TEAM of 1907

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 5.—Only one more game now stands between Princeton's hockey team and the intercollegiate championship. If the ice on Carnegie Lake lasts several days more, so that the Tiger septette can continue to hold its daily practices, there will be little reason to fear the outcome of the Yale game on February 9.

Every afternoon the ten members of the squad go through a long drill in shooting and passing the puck, and as the date of the Yale game approaches they are becoming more and more sure of the rubber disk. Chislett at goal is becoming practically impenetrable, for very rarely during the afternoon's scrimmage does the puck get through his bar for a goal. The two forwards, Brush and Crew, amply demonstrated their ability to shoot straight and hard, by scoring three of the four goals made by Princeton in the contest with Harvard on January 19. Lewis and Osborne, the other pair of forwards, are also developing fine form, and the four of them are practicing some clever team plays to spring on Yale.

Although the blue team has been defeated by Dartmouth, it is a well known fact that the New Haven players never reach top form till the end of the season, so that Princeton does not in the least expect an easy victory.

As is usually the case in contests between Yale and Princeton teams, a good deal of money is being placed by the admirers of both colleges, and at present Tiger partisans are offering odds on their chances.

FORAKER'S DEFEAT FOR SENATOR IS ALMOST CERTAIN

CLEVELAND LEADER, ORGAN OF THE NORTHERN OHIO REPUBLICANS.

Takes Strong Stand Against Him Because of His Antagonism to the President.

Cleveland O., Feb. 5.—The Cleveland Leader says: Joseph Benson Foraker, unless all signs are misleading, will have the fight of his life in his campaign for reelection to the United States Senate.

A host of his political supporters are ready to concede in private that he cannot get the solid delegation from Ohio to support him for the presidential nomination next year, and they are alarmed lest he should fail to return to the upper house of Congress. Kaleidoscopic changes have marked the political situation in Ohio in the past few months, and the picture now presented is not a rosette one from the viewpoint of some of Mr. Foraker's well-wishing friends.

Following the campaign and election of last fall Ohio Republicans showed a desire to adopt a conciliatory policy which would insure party harmony and make certain victory in 1908. Whether Senator Foraker and his lieutenants have mistaken this feeling and regard it as a trend of sentiment in favor of his attacks upon the president it is certain that his course in antagonizing Mr. Roosevelt has stirred up the wrath of tens of thousands of Republican voters in Ohio. I make this statement after conversing with scores of Republicans in northern Ohio. In the rural counties especially are the voters wrought up over the estranged relations between the President and the Senator the blame for which is put upon the latter.

The Senator's open break with the President at the recent Gridiron Club dinner seems to have crystallized the anti-Foraker sentiment in Ohio. Little else of a political nature has been discussed during the past week and the subject has overshadowed all others not only here at the State capital but in city clubs and country stores all over Ohio where men gather to talk over topics of the day. The general feeling is that whatever provocation Mr. Roosevelt gave Foraker had no right to jeopardize the Republican party in this state that he might have the satisfaction of wreaking public vengeance and landing on the president.

"Roosevelt" is the steeplechase in Ohio, as was evidenced in the last campaign when Senator Foraker and every Republican orator from the stump pleaded that the President was the one great issue and that if his policies were to be continued the voters would prove their confidence in him by electing Republicans to office. And the people showed their faith in Roosevelt by following the advice of Foraker et al. in this respect.

Political leaders, without passing upon the merits of the controversy, say that in view of the strong Roosevelt sentiment in this state they feel it was peculiarly unfortunate that an Ohio senator led in the criticism which followed the Brownsville incident, and lament that when the President, in response to these attacks, threw down the gauntlet an Ohio senator should pick it up.

There can be no doubt that between Brownsville and the Gridiron dinner Foraker sent glimmering any chance for capturing a united delegation from Ohio to the national convention, if one is to rely upon what he hears from alarmed friends, of the senator as well as from his Republican opponents.

The growing suspicion that Foraker is a stalking horse for Fairbanks, of Indiana, has put a quiver on the talk concerning Ohio endorsement for the presidential nomination.

Really the talk now is not who will get the Ohio delegation to the national convention, but who will succeed Foraker in the United States Senate.

The Newark Gun club will give a duck and chicken shoot, Thursday, February 7 at 1 p. m. Come everybody. 2d2t

WILL NOT BE SOLD.

A bad brand of tobacco is being smoked by some enterprising pencil-pusher in Cincinnati. A note in The Enquirer Monday stated that Danny Davis and Erv Wratton were both to be sold to a big minor league club and that such a sale would cause much displeasure among the Newark fans. The latter part of the statement is correct. Such a sale would make many Newark fans sore. Both President Stasel and Secretary Hopkins denied the report in emphatic terms. Mr. Stasel said: "If there is anything in it, this is the first I have heard of it."

MARY

By Byron Williams.

When Mary spansk th' butter in th' spring-house by th' crick, She looks almighty lovely—twic't as purty an' as slick As them gals down t' th' city with their funny struttin' walk; An' I hang around an' putter, jest t' hear Miss Mary talk.

She has eyes that haunt a feller in th' middle o' th' night; Eyes that sort a' makes th' v'lets hide their petals out o' sight. Wisht that I could git up courage jest t' ask her for a wife; Fer with Mary spankin' butter—well I guess that would be life!

Mary's arms are round and rosy and her cheeks is blushin' red; Jest t' gaze upon her featur's sort a' goes right t' yer head! Then she spats her butter mad-like, sez: "Git out you lazy thing. Keeps on spattin' and a hummin' like th' water in the spring."

Then I sneak away a laughin' jest t' hide th' love I feel; Go out yonder t' th' orchard with my senses in a reel! When I think o' Mary spankin' of her butter by the spring, Seems like Heaven is some nigher, an' th' stars, an' everything!

BLEW UP.

Harriman and Hanks Fall to Substantiate Their Assertions.

Washington, Feb. 5.—That Hanks and Harriman failed to substantiate their assertion that grave errors appeared in the statistical work of the interstate commerce commission; and that they failed to show, in accordance with their claim, that the freight and passenger rates of the country could be reduced an average of 10 per cent without reducing wages or dividends. The above are the conclusions of the interstate commerce commission in its report to the senate in response to a resolution of that body concerning the employment of Charles S. Hanks and George W. Harriman. These men made an investigation of the interstate commerce commission after several conferences with the president and members of the commission, when, it is stated, they assured the president that grave errors and shortcomings existed in the work of the commission, and they could revolutionize the work of that body.

Citizens Hold Up Coal Train. Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 5.—A Midland Valley freight train was held up at Foraker, in the Osage nation, and a party of determined men climbed into the tender and without ceremony unloaded nearly all the coal into vehicles. Opposed to Ship Subsidy. Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 5.—The Nebraska legislature went on record as opposed to the ship subsidy bill by vote of 50 to 30 in the house on the senate joint resolution memorializing congress to defeat the ship subsidy measure and requiring Nebraska senators and representatives to oppose it. The resolution passed the senate by unanimous vote.

IN SIMPLICITY

New Treaty With San Domingo Differs From the Old.

Washington, Feb. 5.—According to the understanding of the state department, a new treaty between Santo Domingo and the United States was signed at the Dominican capital by President Caceres and Minister Dawson. This convention is intended to replace the Dominican treaty pending before the United States senate for two years, and it is hoped by the officials that the text can be received in Washington in season for action at the present session of congress. The new convention differs from the original treaty in its simplicity, particularly in the substituting of bonus delivered to the international creditors of Dominica instead of requiring them to await the periodic payment of small installments of their money from the customs receipts of the island.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 & 60: the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Her Shipyards and Naval Arsenals Turning Out Men-of-war and Equipment With Feverish Haste—No Foreigners Employed—World Has No Idea of Increase Being Made in Fighting Strength.

In view of the report that war with Japan is threatened over the exclusion of Japanese children from the San Francisco schools the following article is of timely interest:

An English engineer, while stopping in New York on his way from Tokyo to London and who for the last three years has enjoyed peculiar opportunities for observation by virtue of his business relations with the Japanese war office, recently gave to a reporter of the New York Sun some facts concerning Japan's reserve war strength in terms of arsenal and shipyard production.

Since the war, he said, the war office in Tokyo has been as chary of admitting foreigners to knowledge of what was being done in the manufacture of war material as it was during the struggle. Outside of possible information gathered by the secret agents of the European war offices, the world at large has no conception of the high pressure work that is going on in all the war factories of Japan, nor is anything known of the facilities these factories possess for scientific production of instruments of war.

Japan has two military arsenals employing approximately 50,000 workmen. These arsenals have extra night shifts, and at times they are run week in and week out continuously. The empire operates four shipyards and naval arsenals. In two of them battleships have been built and are now building. Aside from these there are government steel works for the production of armor plate and material for big guns, a government powder factory and two auxiliary private shipyards and drydocks capable of being used for war purposes within twenty-four hours.

This in the mass is the potential war equipment of Japan. Throughout all of the works there is at present not one foreigner, either teacher or workman. The gates are closed to every Japanese who is not in the employ of the government. The navy yards at Kure, on the inland sea, are the largest and best equipped in Japan. There are between 85,000 and 90,000 machinists, artisans and laborers living there. Admiral Yamaguchi is commander of the Kure naval station. At Kure there are four drydocks capable of receiving a battleship of the first class, a complete shipbuilding plant and a naval arsenal for the manufacture of big guns. The drydocks are of the latest pattern, equipped with pumps of the largest capacity and cement lined throughout. It is here that several of the captured Russian ships which were raised at Port Arthur have been completely reconstructed and placed in commission.

The Kure shipbuilding plant is fitted almost entirely with English machinery. The keel of a battleship can be laid down at Kure and the whole vessel built with no importation either of machinery or of armament. Up to a recent time the Kure yards had been supplied with armor plate from England and American mills. Recently with the erection of the Imperial Steel works, ten miles outside of Moji on the west coast of the island of Kiusiu, and of an armor plate plant at Kure the Japanese shipbuilders have not had to rely on foreign made armor plate, but import only the unfinished steel and make their own forgings. Since the signing of the treaty with Great Britain the steel for Japanese battleships has been bought almost entirely in English markets.

At the present time a sister ship of the battleship Satsuma, recently launched at the Yokosuka naval yards, which is larger than the Dreadnought, is under course of construction in the Kure shipyards. While the vessel is under way her armament is being forged in the gun factory adjacent. The Kure naval arsenal, employing over 3,000 men, makes guns of all sizes from three inches to twelve. The guns are of the English pattern, and the machinery for their production is English.

Besides big guns for the navy the Kure arsenals will soon be ready to turn out heavy rifles and disappearing guns for land fortifications. A special plant, installed within the year past, has already been at work on fortification artillery of lower calibers. All the guns of this type already mounted on the Japanese coast batteries have been of English manufacture.

Yokosuka naval yards, next in size, are situated on Yokohama bay, about fifteen miles from the city of Yokohama. The Yokosuka yards comprise a shipbuilding plant, three drydocks, machine and repairing shops and a torpedo factory, the only one in Japan. The whole yards cover about 150 acres, and about 7,500 men are employed in the various departments.

In speaking of naval construction in Japan the informant was careful to explain that at the present time the naval engineers at Tokyo are preparing absolutely unaided all the plans and specifications for the forthcoming home built navy. The torpedo factory connected with the Yokosuka naval yard manufactures all the torpedoes used on the ships and for the protection of harbors. The dirigible torpedo for use on torpedo boats or battleships is of the English type, but charged according to a secret formula of the Japanese.

There are two smaller naval stations, one at Maizuru, on the west coast of the main island of Honshu, about fifty miles above Simoda, and the other at Sasebo, on the west coast of the lower island of Kiusiu, above Nagasaki.

The naval programme announced from Tokyo recently purposes making of Maizuru an arsenal second only to that of Kure. A torpedo plant is being installed there, and the manufacture of shells for naval batteries will be undertaken as soon as the extensive plant already ordered can be put in operation. The largest military arsenal in Japan is at Tokyo. Here there is a complete plant for the manufacture of small arms, field artillery, cavalry equipment and cartridges.

The shell works at Tokyo have a daily capacity of 600 three-inch shells for field pieces with fuses complete. A fuse works, with a daily capacity of 1,100 fuses for shells of from three inches to twelve inches, is now working in conjunction with the Tokyo arsenal.

The cartridge works operated in conjunction with the arms manufactory at Tokyo supplies the entire Japanese army. The powder used is of Japanese manufacture. The Shimose powder charge for shells, the secret of which the Japanese have been able to keep to themselves, is a product of the Ujima works.

The Osaka military arsenal, situated on the sea above Kobe, is well equipped for the manufacture of guns up to the three inch size.

The great siege guns used by the Japanese at Port Arthur were the product of the Osaka gun works.

It is evident that Japan is intent upon making herself independent of the world in the construction and equipment of her naval forces. In concluding the English engineer said:

"I believe that the people outside of Japan do not realize how tremendous is the activity of the government in putting the nation in a position of secure armed defense. Nor is it generally known that even with the tremendous expense incurred by the war weighing her down Japan as a possible opponent is today no minus quantity."

REAL BRIDAL COACH.

All Cupids and Hearts and Ready For Business in Pittston, Pa.

A bridal coach designed to boom matrimony in Pittston, Pa., and to do away with the custom of decorating the ordinary hacks with white ribbons for weddings has recently been completed in Bridgeport, Conn., says the New York Sun. This novel equipage is in the shape of a huge heart and cost $1,800.

It is maroon and black, with gold trimmings. There are twenty hearts on the vehicle, including eight heart shaped windows, two large hearts joining to form the dashboard and two more cropping out of the rear springs. The lamps, which have electric lights inside, are each surmounted by a cupid with his bow and arrow. The wood carving is especially beautiful.

The coach is upholstered in cream colored velours finished with old gold buttons with two sets of watered silk curtains, and overhead is a cluster of calla lilies in the heart of which are concealed red, white and blue electric lights.

A liveryman at Pittston, Pa., will drive it with four cream colored horses attached.

No Revolution For Wells.

A good story is told in regard to H. G. Wells, whose pungent and advanced criticisms of present day conditions in his most recent book, "The Future in America," and elsewhere have mistakenly caused some people to consider him an extreme socialist. The story is that on his late visit to the United States he was one of the guests at a Boston club one evening and found that he was to sign the register immediately beneath the signature of Jack London, who, it is said, had signed, with a flourish, "Yours for the revolution," whereupon Mr. Wells wrote in his fine, small handwriting, "There ain't a-going to be no revolution," and carefully signed his name to the sentiment.

Harry Thaw's Dream.

When Harry Thaw, who is on trial for the killing of Stanford White, arose from his cot in the Tombs, in New York, the other day he was in a happy frame of mind and burst out into song, says the New York Journal. A keeper asked him what was up, and the prisoner said he had experienced a pleasant dream.

"I believe it is a good omen," he said. "Some one appeared to me in my sleep. I don't know who it was—it was an indistinct form—but it came and said to me that by Washington's birthday I would be free. Let's see, that's the 22d of February. It may seem strange, but I can't help feeling it is a prophecy that will come true."

Giant Spiders as Hemp Spinners.

County Assessor R. D. Bruce of Danville, Ky., proposes to raise giant spiders and submit to their webs for hemp for the manufacture of rope, says the New York Tribune. He has made an investigation and says that in some parts of Asia spiders are found which when full grown are as large as cats and quite docile in disposition. These, he says, are raised for their webs, which are used in making fishing nets. A letter from an African tribesman leads him to believe, he says, that the spiders can be raised in the United States in incubators.

Aimed at Car Discrimination.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 5.—Senator Blue introduced a bill in the legislature to prevent discrimination by common carriers in the distribution of required cars. It provides a penalty of from $1,000 to $5,000 fine for each offense, and the circuit court where the shipper resides has jurisdiction. The officer or agent of the railroad convicted is also subject to a fine of from $500 to $1,000. Common carriers are required to keep a record of car distribution for public inspection. Repeated complaints in the state over alleged discrimination in this matter led to the introduction of this bill.

Heyburn's Comment.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Continuing his speech in the senate in criticism of the administration of the public land laws, Senator Heyburn said there was no necessity for and no likelihood that congress would lend the forestry bureau $5,000,000, as asked by the president. He said the last report of the bureau showed $273,000 to the credit of the bureau, "and yet the proposition is to pawn the forests of the government to the government for $5,000,000. These gentlemen seem to treat these forests as their own private enterprise." Mr. Heyburn said that he did not think either the secretary of the interior or the president was or could be guilty of doing a wrong act, but that they had been misinformed or were uninformed as to the facts, and had thus been led into doing the things which he had suggested were harmful.

SUIT TO ENJOIN A NEW COMPANY

FROM BONDING THE PROPERTY AND A RECEIVER IS ALSO ASKED.

For the Toledo & Western Railroad
—Religious Order at Barracks Was Revoked.

Toledo, O., Feb. 5.—Charles Thompson, a stockholder of the Toledo & Western Railway company (telegraphic), recently sold by foreclosure proceedings begun by bondholders in United States court, filed in common pleas court a suit to enjoin the Toledo & Western Railroad company, which was recently incorporated to take over the property from the purchaser, William F. Nutt, from bonding the new company. A receiver also is asked for to take charge of the property pending its return to the old company.

The plaintiff alleges that prior to July 1, 1906, the directors of the old company, knowing that interest on bonds aggregating $37,500 would become due July 1, and knowing that the company was able to meet this obligation, deliberately purchased a large amount of equipment, so that when the interest became due the company was without apparent resources and defaulted the interest. The plaintiff claims that the road, through Nutt, was finally conveyed to the Toledo & Western Railroad company, and became a valuable acquisition to the alleged conspirators, while $1,600,000 worth of the stock of the Toledo & Western Railway company in the hands of the former stockholders was made worthless. The plaintiff also claims that the Toledo & Western Railway company had $40,000 on deposit in the bank when sold, enough to pay its pressing indebtedness, and that but for the alleged conspiracy would be doing a profitable business today.

MALTOSE AND HEALTH.

Physicians Say Its Use in The Human System
Is of Great Value.

The great value of Maltose as a nutritive substance can not be exaggerated. In the living organism it is transformed into assimilable sugar more rapidly than saccharose or cane sugar. It is very easy to digest and having not a sweet taste as cane sugar it can be taken in much greater quantities than the latter.

"Maltose" is no meaningless coined word; it stands for its literal translation from the Latin and means exactly what it says—"Malt Life." The original phrase, "For the blood is the life," is the starting point and final winning post of Maltose-Vita, which contains a considerable percentage of maltose, a natural sweetening agent, easily digestible and readily assimilated by the human economy, forming rich healthy blood.

Now for many years the medical profession have prescribed semi-solid malt extracts which contain a large percentage of maltose but which cost from fifty cents to seventy-five cents per pound. Maltose-Vita contains from eight to ten per cent of this wonderful blood-maker and costs but ten cents per package.

Maltose-Vita is scientifically prepared to meet the requirements of old and young, weak and strong. To every man, woman and child it gives blood, bone, muscle and brain vigor and buoyancy of life that cannot come from other food. And it is good to eat! All grocers sell Maltose-Vita.

BLESSING TO MANY PEOPLE

MAY MEAN MUCH LESS SICKNESS
HERE WHEN GENERALLY KNOWN.

Valuable Prescription and How to Prepare It if You Have Kidney or Bladder Troubles or Rheumatism.

This is a message that will bring happiness again into many families and sunshine into the lives of hundreds of disheartened and discouraged men and women here. It requires just a little inconvenience, for it can't be bought already prepared. It is a simple home prescription now being made known in all the larger cities through the newspapers. It is intended to check the many cases of rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble which have made so many cripples and invalids and weaklings of some of our brightest and strongest people.

The druggists here have been notified to supply themselves with the ingredients, and the sufferer will have no trouble to obtain them. The prescription is as follows: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bed time.

Recent experiments even in severe hospital cases, prove this simple mixture the remedy for Rheumatism, because of its positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It compels these most vital organs to filter from the blood and system the waste impurities and uric acid which are the cause of rheumatism. It cleanses the kidneys, strengthens them and removes quickly such symptoms as backache, blood disorders, bladder weakness, frequent urination, painful, scalding and discolored urine. It acts as a powerful stimulant to the entire kidney and bladder structure, puts new life into them and invigorates the entire tract. It makes the kidneys clean the blood. The Dandelion will take care of liver trouble and constipation, and is fine for the stomach.

All the ingredients, states a well known local druggist, are of vegetable extraction, making it a safe and harmless prescription at any time.

Those who suffer and are accustomed to purchase a bottle of patent medicine should not let a little inconvenience interfere with making up this prescription. Wherever this becomes generally known, states a large Eastern publication, it ruins the sale of the patent medicines and so-called rheumatism and kidney cures, which is its best endorsement of virtue.

CHEST CRUSHED CAUSING DEATH

Young Man Meets a Sad Fate at Junction City in a Very Peculiar Manner.

New Lexington, O., Feb. 5.—While awaiting the arrival of the south bound T. & O. C. train at Junction City Monday the life of Leslie White aged 20, was snuffed out in a very peculiar manner.

Young White and his cousin, Harvey White, were standing on a platform at the C. & M. V. station, watching a freight engine distribute cars on the side track. The engine was pushing a car into the track running directly along the platform. A large baggage truck had been placed on the platform with the handles projecting over the track. The rear end of the car struck the truck, dashing it with considerable force into the building.

White was struck by the truck, pinning him against the building. The collision came so suddenly that he did not have an opportunity to get out of the way. His forehead was fractured and his chest was crushed in such a manner that he died in a very few minutes. Harvey White who was standing within a few feet of his cousin, miraculously escaped by a hair's breadth.

MCCUMBER BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

A Loan of $1,000,000 Granted the Jamestown Exposition Secured
by Mortgage on Receipts.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The house passed a number of important bills, including the McCumber service pension bill, the omnibus lighthouse bill and the omnibus revenue cutter bill. Members sought to get through with as much legislation as possible under suspension of the rules. The house, by a vote of 110 to 85, concurred in the senate amendments to the urgent deficiency bill lending the Jamestown exposition $1,000,000, and safeguarding the loan by a lien on the gross receipts.

As has been stated before the McCumber bill gives veterans of the Civil and Mexican war who served 30 days or more a pension of $12 a month after they have reached the age of 62 years, $15 at 70 years and $20 at 75 years. It is estimated that the bill will increase the roll from $6,000,000 to $15,000,000. The President will sign the bill as soon as it reaches him.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Several test votes were taken by the house committee on public lands to determine the attitude of the committee toward President Roosevelt's policy of leasing all government coal lands. The committee voted against a general leasing system for the coal lands, but by a vote of 5 to 4 favored a plan to lease such lands in limited areas. Another vote showed that the committee still favors the retention of the present system of selling land, but modifications in the present plan which will make fraud more difficult.

She slipped on the ice and in falling broke her thigh and her shoulder and sustained internal injuries. Anti-Poolselling Bill.
Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 5.—The Amis anti-poolselling bill, prohibiting betting on horse races, passed the senate by a vote of 27 to 2. An amendment, which sought to restrict the provisions of the bill from applying to organized racetrack enclosures, was killed. Sentiment in the house indicates that the bill will pass.

"Regular as the Sun"

Is an expression as old as the race. No doubt the rising and setting of the sun is the most regular performance in the universe, unless it is the action of the liver and bowels when regulated with Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed by F. D. Hall, Druggist. 25c.

NARROW ESCAPE OF INTERURBAN CAR MONDAY

AT THE DANGEROUS EAST MAIN STREET E. & O. RAILROAD CROSSING.

Fast Passenger Train No. 8 Dashed
Past Just as the Car Cleared the Tracks.

Passengers on an interurban car, which arrived in the city Monday night at 8 o'clock, narrowly escaped injury or death when B. & O. train No. 8 whizzed over the interurban crossing at Main street an instant after the interurban car had cleared the tracks of the steam road. Railroad men on the fast line state that only the application of the emergency brakes saved the interurban car from absolute destruction.

Details of the story are lacking, as both the engineer and fireman who were on the engine pulling No. 8 are out of the city today. As near as can be learned, the car stopped as usual at the crossing and the motorman got the signal to cross the track as no train was in sight.

With the middle of the car over the main line of the steam road, the B. & O. fast line from Chicago dove in sight around the curve. The engineer saw at once the danger of the car and applied the emergency brakes which stopped the speed of the car sufficient to allow the interurban car to get "in the clear."

Superintendent Gibbs stated to the Advocate that a report of the matter had been made to his office but an investigation made immediately proved the reports greatly exaggerated.

It is probable that slippery tracks caused by the falling snow made it difficult for the interurban car to get under way after having stopped at the tracks.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

ERNEST BENNER.

Mr. Ernest Benner, one of Newark's most prominent German-American citizens, died at his home, 27 Wilson street, Tuesday morning at 2:15, having been ill since Thursday last from bronchial pneumonia.

The deceased was born in Kuehorn, near Strichen Schlesien, Germany, January 6, 1833 and came to America November, 1859, engaging in his trade, that of the blacksmith. He was a member of the First regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry and after serving four years, having entered as a blacksmith, was honorably discharged. For the past 45 years Mr. Benner has led a retired life in Newark, where he was loved and respected and well known over the city, more particularly by the older German residents.
